A CONSIDERATION OF SUCCESS.

This year's rowing season will long be remembered, and its success will mark 1928 in figures of red in the history of the School. Five wins in five races in the one day, the return of the Major Rennie Trophy after an absence from the School of thirteen years, the placing of the School once more in the lead in respect of the number of wins in the Rowing Championship! We may perhaps be pardoned if we give way to our feelings, and allow some small fraction of our exuberance to enter the pages of "The Torch-Bearer."

However, there is cause for satisfaction not only in the success of our crews, but in the fact that the great occasion may fairly be expected to give increased vitality to the School in all its activities. One might draw a moral from the victory: however, morals are dull things at best. Let us rather seek in general to find all the possible ways in which we can turn the victory to account.

Every school has its ups and downs in work and in games. As the composition of the upper portion of the School changes year by year, first-class scholars and brilliant athletes move on from our ranks, and leave gaps which sometimes can be well filled by their successors, and sometimes cannot. Sometimes Fortune smiles, sometimes she turns her face away. If we were perfect beings, we should, no doubt, be able to go on from week to week with our feelings unchanged by varying fortunes and our confidence in the health of the School unshaken. As we fall short of perfection, we are inclined sometimes, after losing a match or a race which we think we might have won, to suspect deficiencies where they do not exist, or at least to magnify those which do exist. Rumour proceeds to inform us of all sorts of things which we had not previously suspected; hints are repeated so often that they assume the importance of facts.

We have undoubtedly been passing through a period, not by any means of failure, but of comparative lack of success. Our standard in scholarship has improved, and, with the help of boys of first-class ability and keenness, we have taken a very high place in examination results. Thanks partly to sound prefects, and to a succession of senior prefects of much more than ordinary personality, we have maintained a very high tone in the School. But we have not gained many first places in sports. The winning of a G.P.S. Competition is not the reason for playing a game, but it does represent the high standard of attainment which should be our goal. When we are beaten, we should take the other fellow heartily by the hand, and leave no stone unturned so that we may beat him at our next friendly meeting. We have not lacked much of this spirit. Our teams have probably trained and practised more keenly than ever before. The value of our wins at the Regatta is that they may help us all to realise that a steady process of "pegging away" brings its reward in the long run.

The most pleasing feature of our wins (let us say it with as much modesty as we can) is that they were obtained through good rowing. We have always had the reputation of turning out good crews, which have tried to master the art and science of rowing: for true rowing is both an art and a science. It has occasionally been somewhat trying to read references to "Shore's pretty crew," particularly when we knew that very solid work was being done in the boat. But, if our reward has been somewhat delayed, it has come in full measure this year. It is sincerely to be hoped that we may in the future guard jealously our tradition of style. Rowing has many trials and discomforts: it has many compensating joys. There is the joy of battle in a well-fought race, the joy of feeling that one is not an individual, but part of a combination. But above all, there is a joy which can only be experienced when a reasonable approach to perfection has been attained, that joy of rhythmic effort—

“When the Charm and Delight Put the toil out of sight,” and when the boat answers like a live thing to every pressure on the stretcher. Men have written poetry about this feeling—books of it. By no means let us neglect the hard physical preparation without which style is useless, but do let us determine that every one of our crew is to experience something of the pleasure which is only to be obtained through assiduous study of the Science of the Oar.

No such statement of our ideas on this subject would be complete without reference in very clear terms to the Third and Fourth Fours and their coach. The crews which rowed in the afternoon have had their share of limelight. But no small praise is due to those who won the morning races. Their keenness was extraordinary. Rowing in Berry's Bay is by no means the gentle exercise which it was only five years ago. Conditions are often extremely unpleasant. However, throughout all disadvantages they trained like Trojans, not only for the more obvious reasons, but especially because they realised that two morning wins would put no small amount of heart into the crews which were to row later. Our junior cricket and football teams have the same spirit, and may well take encouragement from the realisation that they are doing work of equally real value to the School.

Now that the Regatta is over, the football season has commenced: the athletic season is not far ahead, and so on. It is rather unfortunate that circumstances cause so much more to be made of the Boat Race in a short space of time than can be made of other games. We may not like the fuss, but we succumb occasionally to a little exhilaration. It is the more incumbent upon us to give all the support possible to the football teams from the start of the season to the finish: the kind of support which will enable the coaches, captains, and teams to feel that they have behind them every ounce of enthusiastic backing that the School, from the youngest in the Preparatory School to the oldest Old Boy, can supply.

SCHOOL NOTES.

We welcome on the staff this term Mr. J. Carrington Pope, M.A., the Rev. N. A'B. Backhouse, B.A., Dip. Ed., Mr. M. W. Ashton, B.A., Mr. H. W. Grigg, B.A., the Rev. C. T. Debenham, Mr. C. Robinson, and Mr. G. Vaughan, B.A.

Mr. L. C. Furnell has qualified for the degree of B.Ec. (Syd.).

A gift of eight guineas has been received during the term from Mr. T. Brassey Woods, to be allotted to the East Window Fund, the Prize Fund, and towards the completion of the panelling of the School Chapel. This is only one of several similar gifts which have been made by Mr. Woods. This opportunity is taken of acknowledging his generous interest in the School.

The Headmaster has received a letter from the Rev. S. C. Wiseman, conveying a message from Mrs. Hodges. They were fellow members of a recent pilgrimage to Jerusalem. Mrs. Hodges sends her love to the School and to Old Boys, and it is evident that the School still holds a high place in her affections.

Old Boys will be glad to hear that she is in the best of health.

The Athletic Committee wishes to acknowledge with thanks a donation of £3 towards the Sports Fund from the Committee of the "Blue and White."

Mr. A. S. Sams has qualified for the degree of M.A.

At the beginning of the term A. D. Hudson was appointed Senior Prefect.

On Assembly on Monday, April 23, the School said farewell to C. S. Stuart, who has been chosen as one of Australia's representatives at the Olympic Games. We are naturally pleased at having for the first time an Old Boy as a member of the Olympic Team, and our hearty wishes for his success go with him.

We have to thank the "Daily Guardian" Newspaper for sending over a large number of prints of the photograph of the Eight which appeared in their issue of Monday, April 23.

THE LATE CANON HEY SHARP.

By the death of the Rev. Canon William Hey Sharp, M.A., on February 3, the School lost an earnest friend and wise Councillor. The record of his service to the Church might well fill many pages. He was educated at Rugby and Lincoln College, Oxford, and retained throughout his life a very deep affection for his old School and College. A large portion of his life was spent in educational work connected with the Church in Australia. He was Chaplain of St. Peter's College, Adelaide, in 1873, and Warden of St. Paul's College, within the University of Sydney, from 1878 to 1908. On his retirement he devoted himself heart and soul to the work of the Australian College of Theology, which owes much to his zeal and high capacity. He was a member of the original Council of the School, and served continuously upon our governing body to the time of his death. His son, the Rev. Percival Sharp, was a member of the staff for some time, and, to the great regret of his colleagues and the School, died of illness at the commencement of a career of promise. Canon Hey Sharp was always most keenly interested in the School Chapel, and was linked with it the more personally by the memorial to his son, which stands in the Chancel steps. We shall miss his kindly presence, especially at our Open Services, at which he was a very regular attendant.

We extend our deep sympathy to Mrs. Hey Sharp and to his family.

R. G. O. HARRIS.

On December 15, just as the School year closed, there passed away, after a few weeks of illness and suffering, one who in his day played a leading part in the School.

R. G. O. Harris entered the School in 1917. The energy of his nature that was behind gifts of a very high order from the first marked him out for distinction.

He represented the School in cricket, football, swimming, and shooting. He held a commission in the Cadet Corps. He added to these athletic distinctions a fine academic record.

Cricket and swimming were his favourite pastimes. In the former he represented the School in four successive seasons, in the last of which (1922) he was captain. He was three years champion swimmer, and after leaving School he won the Championship of N.S.W. in surf racing.

In 1922 he was Senior Prefect.

It was inevitable that the outstanding qualities that placed him in so honourable a position at School would carry him on to further honours at the University, where he had a fine career in the Medical School; and in the last year of his life held the coveted office of Captain of the University Cricket Club.

He had the frank nature and warm heart that mark all great sportsmen. If a mere acquaintance might have found a hint of reserve in his manner, this was only the outward sign of that earnestness of purpose that would have ripened the high promise of his youth into noble performance in maturer years.

The School, his "Alma Mater," mourns the loss of a distinguished son.

SPEECH DAY, 1927.

Speech Day was held on Wednesday, December 14, 1927. His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by General Anderson, was present. The Governor on arriving inspected the guard of honour under Captain Mander Jones, which was drawn up on the lawn near the Chapel.

After the Chapel service, the prizes were distributed in the marquee on the ground. Professor Holme, in the chair, mentioned that he had received apologies for absence from His Grace the Archbishop, the Very Rev. Bishop D'Arcy Irvine, the Ven. Archdeacon Charlton, and Sir Mungo McCallum. He disclaimed any intention of giving a long speech, and called upon the Headmaster to read his report.

The Headmaster then read the following report:—

Your Excellency, Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is again my duty and pleasure to extend to your Excellency, on behalf of the School, a hearty welcome to our Speech Day. We fully realise the exacting demands upon your time, and deeply appreciate the honour of your presence with us.

In the Intermediate Certificate Examination of 1926, 59 boys passed. The average ability of the forms was rather lower than usual, and I consider this result good. In the Leaving Certificate Examination, 40 boys passed, and the results in some cases were very good indeed. The best possible pass consists of four first class honours and two A's. Four boys were within reasonable distance of the possible, and their results were so good as to be worthy of detailed statement. They were as follows:—

L. F. Fitzhardinge: First Class Honours in English, Greek and French, 2nd Class in Latin, one A and one B.

S. P. Bellmaine: First Class Honours in Mathematics (two subjects) and Chemistry, three A's and one B.

T. J. Dunbabin: First Class Honours in English, Latin and Greek, three A's and one B.

G. B. Vonwiller: First Class Honours in Mathematics (two subjects) and Physics, 2nd Class in English, and two B's.

We have rarely in the past been able to claim as many passes of outstanding merit in the one examination. Fitzhardinge secured the very high honour of first place in the whole examination, and was awarded the Aitken Scholarship for General Proficiency, the John West Medal, and Grahame Prize. For three of the past four years the best boy candidate in the Leaving Certificate has come from this School, a fact of which we are justifiably proud.

Our present head boy is well up to the standard of the best boys of the past four years, and is worthy of as high a place in the examination which has just been completed. A considerable number of honours were won in addition to those which I have mentioned, and the School was represented in the Honours List in every subject for which candidates were presented. Eleven boys were awarded University Exhibitions.

The general standard of work in the School has been very fair during the year. Two boys, Dunbabin and Myers, share the majority of the School prizes. Both are very young, and should do exceedingly well in the future; Dunbabin's standard in classical work is very high. The improvement in the Lower and Middle Schools which I mentioned last year has been amply maintained. The Upper Fourth Forms this year have been good in general standard; the Lower Fourths have been better than for some years past, and the Thirds, as far as it is possible to judge at this stage, are well above normal. For the next few years the Intermediate results should be good; I mention this not as indicating that the Intermediate is the objective, but because it provides the only ready standard of comparison for those who are not acquainted with the School. There is still a very considerable gap between the standards of the A, B and C Forms in the various grades. We can scarcely expect a rapid improvement in this respect, as boys come to us of widely varying ability and attainments. The promotion of boys from our own Preparatory School has had its effect already in making more even the initial standard of the Third Forms. Next year this effect should be still more apparent.

Last year I remarked upon the number of cases which I had encountered in which boys had been seriously prejudiced as a result of lack of foresight in planning their education. In particular, I drew attention to the fact that boys who aim at a profession which requires matriculation often advance considerably without taking account of the University's requirements. I am more than ever impressed with the necessity of urging the wisdom of looking ahead as far as is reasonably possible, in order that no avenues may be closed when the critical time arrives for the choice of a career. Lack of foresight is also very frequently evident at the stage when boys are passing from primary to secondary work. I cannot too strongly urge upon parents the wisdom of ensuring that their boys are prepared in their primary work in such a way as to enable them to fit into the curriculum of their secondary school without delay.

The School's record in Sport during the year has been below the average of recent years. All schools have to pass through cycles in this respect, and we have undoubtedly had a lean year in First Grade competitions. This is the first year for some time in which we have not won one of the senior competitions, and been well placed in several of the others. There are various reasons for this: the main one is the dearth of outstanding talent. Another is the low average age of our senior boys; it is certainly not a lack of keenness and hard trying: in fact, the keenness and attention to training have been as great as ever. If my remarks contain some references which seem like excuses, it will be understood that they are prompted by the desire to do full justice to coaches and teams.

The Cricket Team has won five matches, drawn two, and lost seven during the year. The batting strength was very fair, but the bowling was weak. The 2nd XI. has been very successful, and occupies second place two points behind the winners. The 3rd and 4th XI.'s have also been very successful.

The Football Team won three Competition matches, and lost four. I have no hesitation in qualifying these figures with details, which are apparently insufficiently realised. At the commencement of the season only three of the previous year's team were available. However, we looked forward to a more successful year than we have had since 1923. In each of the first two Competition matches the second half was played with fourteen men, the loss being a vital one in each case. Furthermore, from the start of the season the various epidemic diseases which were then prevalent seemed to select 1st XV. men. As a result, although the Committee had occasion to drop only one man to substitute another considered better, there were in the seven matches no less than twenty-seven men who played with the 1st XV. The lower teams, of course, suffered even more. These facts are presented not as an excuse, but rather to help those who understand Rugby to give to the teams and coaches the credit which is their due. That they deserve great credit is the considered opinion of those who saw the way in which they persisted in spite of discouraging conditions.

The Regatta was held this year under very much better rowing conditions, as a result of the hard work and forethought of the Regatta Committee of the G.P.S.A.A.A. The Eight had been somewhat inconsistent in practice, but had done some very good work. In the heat, they reached second place after a very hard and close race. In the final, through anxiety to get an early lead, they lost their form and were last. The result was disappointing to the crew itself, and was perhaps as much due to over-keenness as anything else. The 1st Four failed to reach the final. The 2nd Four rowed splendidly in heat and final, and won easily.

In Athletics, we anticipated a lean time from the beginning of the year. Training was carried out most enthusiastically from about March onward by the keen members of the team, and various contests were held with other athletic clubs. However, we had no talented senior athletes, whereas several other schools had boys of very exceptional ability. The Senior Team occupied a low place. The Junior Team was very well balanced, and did contain exceptional performers; they scored a fine win in the contests for the Junior Championship. I think a great deal of the value of athletic training, because it requires persistence and a great deal of sacrifice of time and comfort. Therefore, I should like to say to those boys who trained so keenly throughout the year that, if their efforts did not obtain many points in the Senior Competition, they were not wasted, and will be a worthy example to be followed in future years. Not only were the efforts in training greater than in recent years, but it is my opinion that the actual improvement effected in individuals by coaching was certainly greater. The fine performances of the Junior Team lend weight to this opinion.

The Rifle Shooting Team was a good one, so good that in one match they beat the record established by the School last year. However, two teams were ahead of this fine score, and we had to be content with third place in the G.P.S. Premiership.

A great deal of Tennis has been played at appropriate times. Through the kindness of Sir James and Lady Fairfax, the Fairwater Cup match with S.G.S. was again played on the "Fairwater" Courts. The contest was exceedingly close. Matches and sets were equal, but S.G.S. had the advantage of 5 games.

A successful Swimming Carnival was held in March, and a vigorous Boxing Tournament early this month.

In general, the results obtained in senior competitions have been disappointing, and have led to lengthy consideration of the method of organisation of games. Various suggestions have been put forward, many of them prompted by the keenness of Old Boys. Well meant suggestions are heartily welcome, and will be carefully weighed by Sports Masters. If some are not adopted, it will be recognised that there is a definite reason in each case. Only those who have been actively concerned in the organisation are fully aware of the many factors which are to be taken into consideration. The provision of games throughout the School ranks in importance beside the preparation of first teams, and few are aware of the immense amount which must be done, and is being well done in this direction. We are all keen to see "Shore" at the top of the tree in every branch of activity, not only because success in itself is worth striving for, but because success is the best possible incentive to renewed keenness. There are two immediate ways in which all can help towards the goal, namely, by giving every appreciation and encouragement to those who are voluntarily giving immense energy to the running of School games, and by supporting the School teams with their presence in weak years as well as in times of strength.

The usual House Competitions were held during the year. The Cricket, Football, Shooting and Boxing were won by School House; the Rowing, Athletics and Swimming by Robson House. The Brian Simpson Cup for the Cock House was won by School House, with Hodges House second.

In connection with Sport within the School, it is urgently necessary to make an appeal to those parents who do not realise the importance of their co-operation with the School authorities. The majority of parents back up the Sports Masters admirably, but there is a not inconsiderable minority who do not realise that a vast amount of trouble is taken voluntarily for the benefit of their boys. Masters should not be continually chafed by receiving, on behalf of the boys, excuses which are obviously flimsy and unreasonable. If boys are members of a House team, they undertake a responsibility to adhere to the games programme, and it is surely a duty of parents to see that they discharge this. Yet there is a definite proportion of parents who sanction the absence of their boys from house matches and practice upon grounds which are anything but fair to those whose chief desire, after all, is to look after the interests of their sons. A master, in the midst of a busy season, has so much to do that he cannot follow up such excuses with the protest which they merit. Thus boys lose the opportunities which the School provides, and their mates suffer. This is particularly the case in the football season, and steps will be taken next year to place games on a footing which will be more fair to the organisers, to the team captains, and the keen boys.

The Preparatory School has done most useful work. Its main fault is that it is not nearly sufficiently big to take all those who are anxious to attend, and whom the School would gladly welcome at the Primary stage. I have already pointed out the effect which its classroom work is having upon the Third Forms and Lower School generally. The provision of two afternoons for games is a sound arrangement, and it is a delight to see the keenness of the various teams in practice and matches. As our boys pass on at an age much lower than those of other preparatory schools, it is unreasonable to hope that they should have consistent success in outside competition. However, they have held their own remarkably well, and, indeed, to a much greater extent than one might have expected. The quarter competitions are very keenly contested in the various sports and in drill. This year Davies quarter is the premier, but their three rivals will not allow them to hold their honours lightly. The Sergeant-Major is doing splendid work in conducting daily physical drill. Those who saw the display at the Preparatory School Sports early this term must have been impressed with the high standard which he has secured. A branch of the Heralds of the King has been established, and has been so well maintained that £50 has been contributed, mostly in odd pence, to Mission funds during the year. An experiment has been made during the past two terms with general instruction in music. Mr. R. R. Heuston has visited the School twice per week for this purpose, and he has produced a great improvement in speaking as well as in singing.

The usual Open Services have been held each term, and have been very well attended. On Anniversary Sunday we had an address from Rev. G. N. Macdonnell; in second term from Rev. M. P. G. Leonard, Federal Padre of Toe H.; and in third term from the Right Rev. the Bishop of Goulburn. Confirmation was given by the Right Reverend Bishop D'Arcy Irvine on October 20 to 46 candidates. On Sunday, May 1, the Book of Remembrance was dedicated; it is a comfort to know that the names of those who fell in the War are now recorded in a worthy manner in the Chapel. Two further carvings have been completed through the generosity of an Old Boy, Dr. F. C. Bechtel, and two more will be done early in the new year. One of these will be the gift of a valued supporter of the School, who has already contributed considerably to the beautification of the Chapel. The East Window is at present being made by a London artist, Mr. Edward Woore. We are indebted to Mr. Matthew Dawson, an Old Boy architect of high standing in London, for considerable practical help in connection with the window. He has placed his services at the disposal of the School in securing the design, and in overseeing its execution by the artist. The chosen design is a beautiful and very suitable one, and I am confident that we can depend upon Mr. Dawson to see that it is carried out as well as we should wish.

The window should be in position in about six or eight months' time.

The regular Friday night visits to the Boys' Club of Holy Trinity Church, Erskineville, have been maintained, thanks to the keenness of Mr. Freeth and other masters, with the wholehearted support of a large number of boys. The visits do a great deal of good to both parties, and I hope that we shall maintain this very desirable activity for many years.

The various Old Boys' organisations have flourished. The Union membership has improved, and the Club has made greater strides than the most optimistic might have hoped. The new premises in Warwick Building are splendidly adapted for the purpose, and the Committee of the Club merits congratulations upon the achievement of so great an improvement. We have a fine lot of Old Boys in control of the Union, and the Club and the School appreciates highly the work which they are doing. Mr. Harris and Mr. Bagot have done great service at the School, by ensuring that no boy who is about to leave may be unacquainted with his obligation to the Union, or with the benefits offered by the Club. The Old Boys resident in South Australia held their third annual dinner on June 27. On December 3 I was delighted to receive a telephone call from Melbourne from Mr. T. C. Boehme, from the room in which the Melbourne Old Boys were gathered for a similar reunion.

The Playing Fields at Northbridge have progressed as well as could be expected. The main oval is in tip-top condition. However, the extremely dry winter has played havoc with the lower flat, and it has not recovered from the wear of the football season. It has been anticipated for years that it would be necessary to carry out expensive work upon the lower grounds, and the time has arrived when this work has become urgent. For this purpose, and for the general improvement of the ground, it was recently decided by the Council that a Fete should be held next year, and we shall shortly be making another request to our staunch friends, the ladies so closely connected with the School, for help in its organisation.

On every suitable occasion for some years past, I have bewailed the fact that so many boys leave the School without completing a reasonable course of school education. I feel bound to refer again to this matter. The numbers in the Upper portion of the School this term will show how grave is the position. There were 110 boys in the Upper Fourth Forms, 59 in the Fiftths, and only 50 in the Sixths. Thus one half of our boys leave almost immediately after the Intermediate; in other words, one half of our boys leave us with an equipment of intellect and character which is not remotely representative of the best which we can provide. In many cases, they go out at an immature age into an environment which is not calculated to bring out the best which is in them. This is deplorable, whether one considers it from the point of view of the community or the individual. It is urged, of course, that many boys will find it difficult to obtain employment if they are over 16. One cannot deny there is a great deal in this contention. However, I can say, after close and interested observation for five years, that it is my experience that in all but exceptional cases, it is well worth while to risk the difficulty. I know many cases of very promising boys who have left us at about 16, and have become merely ordinary. I cannot call to mind any case in which a boy, who has stayed for the final two years upon our advice, has been the worse for it. Above all, I can name a great many who have been welcomed and appreciated by firms and employers for the very qualities which they have developed in their last two years at School, and who would not have developed these qualities without the opportunities which these two years gave them. I most urgently commend to parents a full consideration of this question before they decide to remove their boys from the School, not, of course, because we have any desire to hold them for the sake of our numbers, but because in the majority of cases departure from School at an immature age is contrary to their interests.

During the year the School Council has given serious consideration to various plans for the future development of the School. The problems involved are exceedingly difficult of solution. A sub-committee was appointed, and has already presented a first report, whose main points have received the approval of the Council. All details hinge upon the decision whether we should adhere to our present site or seek a new one. The various aspects of this important question would need, for their complete explanation, a volume of many pages, and I can do no more at present than refer to some of the more important considerations. The sub-committee is definitely of the opinion that it is undesirable to move to a site at some distance from North Sydney. The idea of establishing a large school in big grounds is very attractive at first, but it involves consideration of the wide question of the purpose which the School is designed to serve. The purpose implied at our foundation was that we should be a day and boarding School, capable of serving the Church and the community in Sydney and in the country. The need for a School of our present character is greater now than it was years ago, and will become even greater in the future. A sweeping move would change the character of the School: though a fine boarding school might spring up, "Shore" would cease to exist; and more important still, many of the services which "Shore" renders in the present character would be lost. The members of the Committee are men of great trust, and it is not to be assumed that they balked at the practical difficulties of a wholesale removal, which would involve the expenditure of an almost entirely hypothetical 120 to 150 thousand pounds. A partial or complete removal to a site nearer North Sydney does not present such difficulties, as it would not necessarily involve a change of character, and as we already possess at Northbridge the most suitable of such sites as are near at hand. It has been decided to postpone consideration of building at Northbridge until the rapid development of this and adjoining localities becomes a little more settled. Meanwhile, our present buildings urgently need modernising in many respects, and this work cannot be long delayed. The plan is therefore to proceed immediately to such an extent as funds will allow with the remodelling of our present buildings. Plans are now in preparation to provide for the many improvements which should bring satisfaction to all of us—improved dormitories, satisfactory accommodation for masters, improvement of certain class rooms, and adequate provision for the domestic staff. As the designing is a matter of some intricacy, and the expense involved considerable, I should not like to say when the improvements are likely to be complete. It is the intention to start the work next year, and to carry it on without interfering with the routine of the School, and, if possible, to complete it within about eighteen months. The scheme will not close the door to the possibility of removal to Northbridge. It has always been my idea that our best organisation in the future will be obtained by placing our Upper School at Northbridge and our Preparatory and Lower Schools here. The Council proposes to keep such a plan before it, and to determine its advisability later in accordance with the progress of the School and the various localities concerned.

A number of changes have taken place, or are about to take place, in the staff of the School. Mr. Baker is just completing leave of absence prior to retirement. His service to the School is so well known as to need little description. He joined the School within a few months of its foundation, and throughout his long association has endeared himself to his colleagues and pupils. His teaching career began when he was in his 'teens, and I believe that I am right in saying that he took his first class fifty years ago next January. Very few can look back on such a record: the School is proud of his association with it, and hopes that for many years to come he may be a frequent visitor to enjoy the welcome which will always await him. Mr. Freeth leaves us at the end of the year to take up the Headmastership of Guildford Grammar School, the Western Australian School corresponding to this School. We congratulate him upon his appointment, and wish him success. It will be difficult to provide for the many functions which he has fulfilled. He has in the past two years built up the Preparatory School into an exceedingly efficient unit, has been a fine coach of football and rowing, a most efficient teacher, and, above all, has exerted a strong influence in the spiritual life of the School. Mr. Walmsley will take charge of the Junior House and Preparatory School next year. Those who know his disposition, his evergreen enthusiasm, and his thorough understanding of small boys, will feel quite assured while this work is in his hands. Among the new masters who will join us next year are Mr. Carrington Pope, Mr. Marcus Ashton, and Mr. H. W. Grigg. Mr. Pope is well known in Sydney school life; he is the energetic Secretary of the G.P.S.A.A.A., and efficient cricketer and footballer, and a master of great experience. Mr. Ashton graduated in Melbourne recently with very brilliant classical honours, and has been for a short time a member of the staff of the Melbourne Church of England Grammar School. Mr. Grigg won the classical scholarship at the Leaving Certificate a few years ago, and graduated with honours at Sydney; he has been recently on the staff of All Souls' School, Charters Towers, Queensland.

I record our sincere appreciation of the assistance of those who have contributed to our various funds during the year. Without such assistance we should find it extremely difficult to carry on many activities. At the beginning of the year generous friends supplemented our Tuck Shop and Boat Club funds to such an extent as to enable us to purchase a 'bus, which is not only a thing of beauty, but a great joy for the travelling which it saves. I should like to acknowledge the generous help towards its purchase which we received from Mr. C. H. Kloster. The Boat Club owes a special debt of gratitude also to Mr. Andrew Reid, who has promised to present to us a new racing eight for next year. If we can manage to get its nose first past the post next year, no one would be more pleased than I shall be, but Mr. Reid will be a close second.

My report would not be complete without a statement, which I make with confidence, that, during the past year the moral tone of the School has been very high. There has been no serious indiscipline, and I am quite confident that, had any minor crises arisen, the School would have been solidly on the side of right. We have had a most steady and reliable set of prefects, who have done their work inconspicuously, but exceedingly well. Above all, we have had in Vernon an outstanding Senior Prefect, whose name will long be remembered. I could not hope to give a complete idea of all that his quiet influence has meant: the position which he has held is one of great opportunities, and only a few of us know how well he has used them. I give to him, without hesitation, a large share of the credit for the School's present healthy tone.

My colleagues and I offer our best thanks to the School Council, not only for wise direction of policy, but for the close personal interest which they have taken in the many events which go to make up a school year. Finally, I ask the masters to accept my thanks for the hearty and consistent interest which they have maintained during the year. An audience composed largely of parents of past and present boys does not need to be told that the assistant masters are the backbone of a school such as this, and that our progress and successes depend not so much upon the performances of routine duties as upon the multifarious services which are rendered through disinterested devotion.

At the conclusion of the Headmaster's report, the Chairman called on His Excellency to distribute the prizes.

His Excellency, rising, said that of all social duties which fell to his lot as Governor, the distribution of prizes was one of the most pleasant. Perhaps the same could not be said of laying foundation stones. He knew that on occasions like the present, pleasure was being given to a great number: even for non-prize-winners there was the anticipatory pleasure of the approaching holidays. He would not speak for long, and these ceremonies must be agreeable, and long speeches would make them less so; but he would like to say what he thought should be the aims of our education. This country was a democracy, and a democracy was in danger of encouraging a dead level of mediocrity and failing to produce leaders at times of crisis. Even a democracy must have leaders, and the qualifications of a leader were discipline, devotion to duty, and service. If we inculcated those ideals, the greatness of the nation might to some extent be owing to us. His Excellency then distributed the prizes.

The ceremony concluded with a vote of thanks to His Excellency and to the Chairman, and the assembly then dispersed to afternoon tea.

MR. FOX'S LECTURE.

On April 16 Mr. Fox, Vice-Captain of the Waratahs, who had just returned from their successful tour, came to the School and gave us a most interesting talk on the tour and on football in general.

In opening, he said that though an old Grammar boy, he was glad to visit us and help on the great game of football, which was, in his opinion, the best game in the world for school-boys and young men. It needed self-control, discipline, team spirit, and the spirit of give and take. He emphasised most strongly the importance of team members working in unison, and not as individuals.

He detailed the duties and positions of each member of a team in the field, explaining to us the training methods and the tactics used by the Waratahs. He told us that the Waratahs concentrated mainly on quick heeling anywhere and everywhere, and by this method they were able to break down the defence of the opposition, and occasionally catching them out of position, were able to score.

He then went on to give us an account of the tour, and described to us some of the important matches. He told us how they played Scotland on frozen ground, and how they played in Colombo with the temperature at 94°. He amused the School with his account of their visit to the Duke and Duchess of York, when they were each allowed to hold the baby for half a minute.

His lecture was warmly appreciated by the School, as was his final promise to come to Northbridge and in a practical way demonstrate to us the finer points of the game.

PLAY READING SOCIETY.

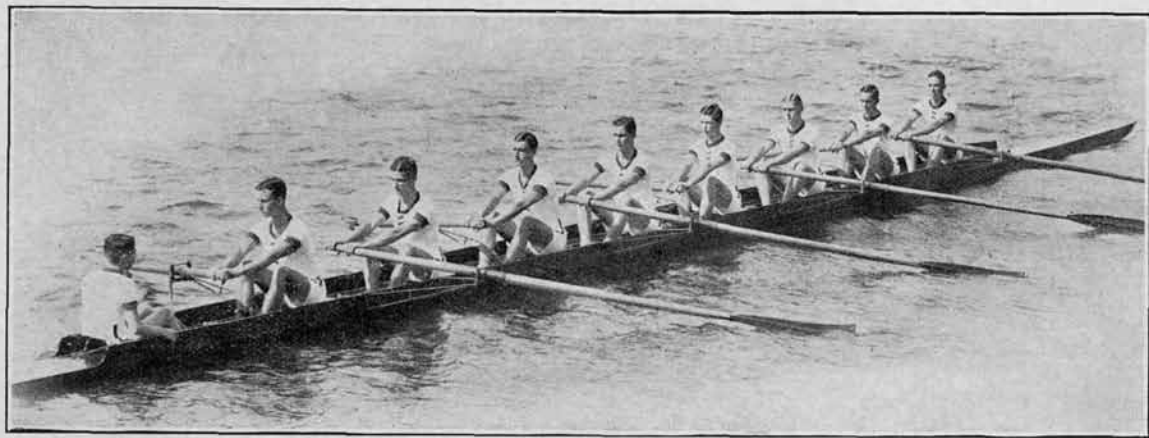

The Society continued its activities this year. The place which Dunbabin so admirably occupied last year being filled by Barnes and Hunter.

Three plays have been read to date—G. B. Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "St. Joan," and J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street." The reading was consistently good, particularly so in the case of "St. Joan," where the ultra-modernity of the language would, with bad reading, appear to be bathos.

A second copy of "Quality Street" has been added to the Society's collection.

ROWING.

From the crews in the House Regatta of 1927 five were selected. The Eight had been selected just prior to this. On January 21 Christmas Camp commenced, Mr. Tiley taking charge of the Eight, Mr. Burrell the 1st Four, and Mr. Mander Jones the 2nd and 3rd Fours.

At the beginning of the First Term Mr. Martin took over the 3rd and 4th Fours. These practised assiduously at Berry's Bay, where they made good progress in spite of the troubled waters. The first three crews daily journeyed by the School 'bus to Gladesville, and proceeded with their training.

The date of the Regatta had been set earlier this year, and in consequence training became somewhat more intense. Everyone was glad when Easter Camp started on March 26. At this stage Mr. Robson took charge of the Eight, and for all crews light rows became a thing of the past.

The heats were rowed on Wednesday, April 18, and the finals on Saturday, April 21. Accounts of these are given below. The School secured the Manly boats "Burra-bra." and "Balgowlah" for the Wednesday and Saturday respectively, and on each occasion School supporters had a good view of the end of the course.

The School owes much to the kindness and help of many generous friends, especially to Mr. Andrew Reid for his gift of a racing eight, which gave added comfort and confidence to the crew and early set them on the pathway to success. We owe our thanks also to Mr. Read, who came to the sheds every Saturday during training and made his launch available for coaching purposes; to Dr. Guy Pockley, who had moving pictures taken of the eights and the fours, which, when shown in the shed, enabled analysis of faults to be made; to Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Hudson, Dr. Miller, Mr. W. A. Purves, Mr. H. H. Dixon, and Mr. H. R. Roche for gifts of fruit. L. Hammond amused the crews with his cinematograph on the night before the heats, and on Friday evening Mr. T. Greaves brought along a machine of the most modern design and exhibited some recent films. On one occasion the crew accepted the invitation of the King's School for a show in their shed. These entertainments were of great value in keeping the crews' minds off the business of the next day. Thursday following the heats was spent in a picnic at Church Point. For this we owe our thanks to Mr. Brassey Woods, Mr. Randall Caréy, Mr. Lionel Carey, and Mr. Cowlshaw.

Our thanks are also due to those Old Boys who sacrificed their Saturday afternoons to pace the Eight; and to Mr. Rosevear, of the Sydney Rowing Club, who made available an eight and a four for pacing purposes. After the race the crews were entertained royally by Mr. Lionel Carey and Mr. T. Brassey Woods.

This report would be incomplete without a reference to the splendid work of the Captain of Boats, A. D. Hudson, who, together with his committee, was tireless in his efforts to instil into the crews the will to win; thanks to his tact and good management, the shed worked smoothly and harmoniously, paving the way to the glorious achievement of April 21, 1928.

A very large number of exceedingly cordial messages of congratulation upon the School's successes in the Regatta have been received. These have come from the other Schools, from their Old Boys' Unions and Clubs, from parents, from our own Old Boys, and from many others. It has been impossible to acknowledge them all individually, because the end of the School term has followed so closely upon the Regatta. It is hoped that those who have not received a personal acknowledgment will accept this notice as an assurance that their very kind messages have been highly appreciated, and have added greatly to the pleasure and pride which the School feels in its successes.

Heats—Wednesday, April 18.

The day of the heats was particularly unfavourable for rowing. A very strong tide was running against the crews, and a hard wind was blowing from the south-east. As our eight and first four were light, and as all our crews had northerly positions, we watched the weather with considerable anxiety. That our anxiety was justified was shown during the afternoon by the considerable advantage which some crews received from the southern stations. Old Boys who were not present may judge the unfavourable conditions from the times of the races as compared with those of the finals. We emerged from all our heats with success, and the performances of the eight and first four were very fine under the adverse conditions; indeed they were probably at least as good rowing performances as those which they put up in the finals. The second four is not mentioned here for the reason that its superiority under any conditions was clearly shown, and therefore the same measure of grit was not demanded of it.

The results of the races were as follows:—

SECOND FOURS.

First Heat.

- | | | |
|---|---|------------|
| 1 | | S.C.E.G.S. |
| | (Bow, R. T. Andrew; 2, T. W. Moppett; 3, R. A. Kelsey; stroke, A. M. Flatt; cox, J. H. Cooper.) | |
| 2 | | T.K.S. |
| 3 | | S.H.S. |
| 4 | | S.I.C. |

The crew led practically from the start, and was not called upon to raise its rate above about 28. They maintained excellent length and swing, and won by two lengths. Time, 7 mins. 45 secs.

Second Heat.

1	S.G.S.
2	N.C.
3	T.S.C.
4	S.J.C.
Time, 7 mins. 57 secs.

FIRST FOURS.

First Heat.

1	N.C.
2	S.I.C.
3	S.H.S.
4	S.J.C.
Time, 8 mins. 27 secs.

Second Heat.

1	S.G.S.
2	S.C.E.G.S.
(Bow, I. L. Menzies; 2, K. C. Harris; 3, E. L. Dixon; stroke, M. A. Mackay; cox, H. Alexander.)
3	T.S.C.
4	T.K.S.

The adverse conditions told heavily in the early part of the race, and at the Gasworks the crew was lying almost, if not quite, last. However, they maintained good length and did not become flurried, and their length and steadiness commenced to play. Throughout the last quarter mile they rowed with great determination. Mackay's effort here was so splendid that it is not invidious to single him out. They were second by one length. Time, 8 mins. 3 seconds.

CHAMPIONSHIP EIGHTS.

First Heat.

1	S.H.S.
2	S.G.S.
3	T.S.C.
4	S.I.C.

S.G.S. led well at Putney, with Scots' second. The changes caused by sickness in Scots' crew told heavily on them. (They were unlucky in this respect.)

High came with a great rush at the finish; making full use of shelter from wind and tide, and won by one length. Time, 10 mins. 15 secs.

Second Heat.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
(Bow, D. E. Woods; 2, J. E. Read; 3, D. K. Phillips; 4, N. W. Carey; 5, A. L. Mackenzie; 6, A. D. Hudson; 7, J. C. Orr; stroke, R. S. Miller; cox, I. H. McDonald.)
2	T.K.S.
3	S.J.C.
4	N.C.

Shore commenced at 36, and after a minute's rowing had a lead from the others, who had started at higher rates. Thereafter they rowed 29 to 30, with really splendid length and very good blade work in the rough water. At Putney they led King's by three-quarters of a length, and maintained the lead till past Tennyson. Here King's, who had been rowing 33 throughout, challenged very strongly, and took full advantage of the shelter. Miller wisely did not hustle his crew, and although they won by only three feet, he had the satisfaction of feeling that he had saved them by his steady rating from a severe grudging in the unpleasant weather. Time, 10 mins. 19 secs.

Finals—April 21.

Saturday was a most delightful day for rowing. The tide was very nearly slack, and conditions were very even for the four crews in each race.

Results:—

SECOND FOURS.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
2	S.G.S.
3	T.K.S.
4	N.C.

Shore again led from the start, and rowing excellent form for this race, steadily increased their lead. They won by four lengths. Their superiority was clear, and the race therefore uneventful from our point of view. Hence the brevity of description, which otherwise might appear to do them less than justice. Time, 6 mins. 31 secs.

FIRST FOURS.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
2	N.C.
3	S.G.S.
4	S.I.C.

Newington led at Putney by about three-quarters of a length, but Shore were rowing good form without any sign of bustle. They steadily rowed the leaders down, and headed them about 400 yards from the finish. Thereafter they went further ahead, and won by $1\frac{1}{2}$ lengths. Mackay's stroking and his own powerful rowing were again features of the race, and excited a great deal of favourable comment. The whole crew rowed very well indeed, and showed clearly the value of steadiness and length of effective blade work. Time, 6 mins. 45 secs.

CHAMPIONSHIP EIGHTS.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
2	S.G.S.
3	S.H.S.
4	T.K.S.

Grammar and King's appeared to lead at first, the latter rowing 40. Shore rowed the first half mile to the letter of instructions, starting at 37 and steadying down to a long 31. Length told almost at once, as they headed Grammar at Putney and went on to lead at the Gasworks by three-quarters of a length. Here Grammar made a valiant effort to overhaul them, and rating about 33, steadily gained. The stroking here was really very good. Miller watched them gaining, and with perfect coolness, keeping his crew well in hand, waited for the effort to expend itself. The length and steady-ness of his crew enabled him to do it, and without any increase of rate, he had the satisfaction of seeing his three-quarter length lead come back to him. The crew won by this distance. Time, 9 mins. 2 secs.

On the Saturday morning the 3rd and 4th Fours competed in the usual unofficial races, and scored splendid wins in both. The results were as follows:—

THIRD FOURS.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
2	S.G.S.
3	S.I.C.

Won by $2\frac{1}{2}$ lengths.

FOURTH FOURS.

1	S.C.E.G.S.
2	T.S.C.
3	S.G.S.

Won by $1\frac{1}{2}$ length.

Both crews were excellently coached, and showed most creditable form. It is quite fair to say that they compared very well with the 1st and 2nd Fours. Their success was a very fitting reward to their coach and to the crews themselves for their intense keenness. Their victories gave great heart to the shed for the afternoon—a result which they had keenly studied to achieve.

The victories of five crews in the one day deserve some further note. It has taken us some time to bring back the rowing championship to the School, but we may be pardoned if we claim, in our exuberance, that we have at least done the job well for once. The 1928 Regatta will live in our memories as one of the very great days in our lives.

The most pleasing feature of the rowing was the high standard of form displayed by all crews. Style does matter in rowing, not only because it produces pace, but also because without it much of the true pleasure of rowing is lost. It may reasonably be said that Shore has not turned out a bad crew in the last twelve years, although throughout that period the championship has not come our way. It is some satisfaction now to feel that our tradition of stylish rowing is a valuable one, and one worthy of being consistently maintained.

CHARACTERS OF THE EIGHT.

- (Bow)—Woods: Never quite mastered the true combination of legs and body at the beginning, nor the easy sustained finish of the stroke, but was very neat and consistent, and had the "nippiness" so essential in a bow man.
- (2)—Read: Inclined to "row the blade in" and to fall away at the finish. Very steady and always effective in his leg work.
- (3)—Phillips: A natural tendency to "shoot the slide" was accentuated by the change to bowside. Is deserving of the highest credit for his persistence in overcoming the effect of the change. Very powerful blade, and rose to the occasion in the race.
- (4)—Carey: A very difficult seat for a man of 10 st. 5 lbs. Chief faults were a tendency to drop the shoulders over the stretcher and to clip the finish, but overcame these in the last week to a very large extent.
- (5)—Mackenzie: The reporter who said he showed signs of exhaustion at the finish could not have watched his blade. A most persistent worker; very good blade work indeed; developed in the last fortnight a tendency to fall away at the finish.
- (6)—Hudson: A first-class captain and really high-class oar. Beyond a slight tendency to rush his body out, he rowed excellent form; was largely responsible for the good length of the crew.
- (7)—Orr: Rowed remarkably well in this, perhaps the most important, seat in the boat. Had fine length for so small a man. A slight tendency to fail to swing his finish through, and sometimes inclined to drop his hands over the stretcher. Never rowed a slack stroke.

(Stroke)—Miller: Has some of the faults which can be forgiven in a good stroke; did not master the art of using his slide at the beginning, nor of using the outside hand at the finish. A good temperament for the stroke seat, as he amply demonstrated.

(Cox)—McDonald: Very sensible and cool. Steered very well, and, as is equally important, studied the interests of his crew carefully during training.

1st FOUR.

After Christmas Camp an alteration was made in the crew, and out of five boys a choice had to be made. Several weeks passed before a decision was reached, and then the seating was as follows:—

Bow—Menzies, 9.9.

2—Harris, 10.7.

3—Dixon, 10.5.

Stroke—Mackay, 10.7.

Cox—Alexander, 6.2.

Bow, somewhat short in body, found difficulty at first in obtaining sufficient length. He had a firm position forward, and as training proceeded, gradually learnt to allow his swing to proceed back to its fullest extent. A good oar, who pulled his weight and more.

Two from the beginning showed much promise. A tendency to allow his right knee to sag to the side of the boat, sometimes causing an uneven drive with the legs, but towards the end of training he had this fault rectified. A keen and willing worker, and pulls a good oar.

Three had to overcome a tendency to sink away at the finish, and when this was accomplished his length and recovery improved tremendously. He most ably backed up stroke, and pulled a good blade.

Stroke: An exceptional stroke, who displayed judgment and fine fighting capacity. His work was excellent.

Cox, inexperienced at the commencement of training, made good headway. In the heat and the final he displayed good judgment, and successfully urged on his crew.

2nd FOUR.

In the 2nd Four, the seating that had been tentatively adopted during the Christmas Camp was altered some weeks after the commencement of the term, and the crew was finally made up as follows:—

Bow—R. T. Andrews, 10.0.

2—T. W. Moppett, 10.8.

3—R. A. Kelsey, 11.7.

Stroke—A. M. Platt, 11.6.

Cox—J. H. Cooper, 5.6.

It was doubtful for some time whether Bow would not be included in the 1st Four. He rows with good length, and has a reasonably firm and balanced movement forward just prior to the catch, which enables him, in spite of his lightness as compared with the rest of the crew, to get his oar through the water fairly well. His chief fault is a tendency to fall away at the finish, but he largely overcame this toward the end of the training, and in consequence got a fairly smooth recovery.

Two is a somewhat unknown quantity in the crew. One is never quite sure that he will not relapse into some old fault or invent a new one, although as a rule he manages to disappoint one pleasantly by unexpectedly doing the right thing at the critical moment. His least inconsistent failing is a tendency to over-reach, due to a sudden "let-go" of the shoulders just before the catch.

Three has developed quite well during the course of training, and has showed considerable ability to adapt himself to what is wanted and to keep what he has learnt. He has for example got the right finishing position fairly well, and has as a result been able to recover easily and naturally. Both he and Two should do well next year.

Stroke is a good, solid, hard worker who, in spite of an apparently inherent incapacity to refrain from looking all round the river and carefully studying every other crew within half a mile, and also an ingrained habit of sinking away at the finish of the stroke, has certainly stroked his crew well. Although he has never been called upon to display his quality as a fighting stroke, he has certainly shown a remarkable knowledge of how to bring in his crew first with a comfortable lead and a minimum of effort.

Cox: Although quite light, he has shown that he possesses the two chief things in coxing—a loud voice and the ability to steer straight.

The crew on the whole was quite a heavy combination for its class, and early in the training showed that length and a stroke firmly carried through to the finish would be its strong points, rather than brightness at the catch. It attained a reasonably good degree of unison throughout the stroke, and developed considerable staying power, which enabled them to be certain—so far as anything is certain in rowing—that they would be able to beat any others in the 3rd crews class.

WITH HORSE AND MORSE IN MESOPOTAMIA.

Mr. Keast Burke is an Old Boy whose war services took him to a theatre of war unfamiliar to most Australians. He was a member of D Troop of the Australian Wireless Squadron, which served in Mesopotamia. The activities of this force and various other units are as yet unrecorded in the Official Histories, but Mr. Burke for seven years has been at work at the head of a committee producing a history of these forces. The labours of the committee have resulted in the production of the book, "With Horse and Morse in Mesopotamia."

The book contains the histories of the 1st Australian Pack Wireless Troop, the N.Z. Wireless Signal Troop, and 1st Australian and New Zealand Wireless Signal Squadron, the 1st Cavalry Divisional Signal Squadron, the Light Motor Wireless Sections, the Australians of "Dunsterforce," the Australian Nurses in India, and the Australian Representative at Bombay. The book is dedicated to those members of the Australian and New Zealand services who lost their lives in this theatre of war.

The Foreword consists of letters from Lady Maude, wife of Sir Stanley Maude, who commanded in Mesopotamia until his death at Bagdad, General Hopwood, General Marshall, General Dunsterville, and General MacMunn.

The histories of the various units are then recorded successively, any general connective narrative being impossible, owing to the fact that all these forces were formed at different times and were not employed together, but were taken by their duties to widely sundered regions. The work, however, has been well done, and the story has been told with a plenitude of detail, which must be thoroughly satisfactory to the members of the forces whose deeds are there recorded.

In addition to the military details, there are many sidelights on the country and people, and on the old civilisations. Considerable use, too, has been made of private diaries and other contributions, which display the less military and more distinctively individual and human side of the business.

The book is adequately supplied with maps, and is illustrated with a wealth of pictures in line and half-tone, representing every phase of the forces' activities from their enlistment to their demobilisation.

Mr. Burke and his committee have done their work thoroughly, and may pride themselves on what they have produced.

THE LIBRARY.

Throughout the term both the Library and Reading Room have been extremely popular, and an able Committee has carried on the work smoothly and efficiently. The change in School hours necessitated several alterations, but no serious difficulty was occasioned.

Several books have been added to the "Travel" section—"With Horse and Morse in Mesopotamia," by Keast Burke, an Old Boy of the School; "14,000 Miles through the Air," by Sir Ross Smith; Arthur Weigall's "Wanderings in Anglo-Saxon Britain"; and "Scott's Last Expedition." The tenth and final volume of Chambers' Encyclopedia was also purchased. We thank E. D. Calman, H. R. Hulton, and A. C. O'Reilly for novels (which have been in great demand) presented to the Library.

Boys using the Reading Room have taken greater care of periodicals throughout this term than during last year, and have always been orderly. However, considerable slackness has been shown by boys keeping books longer than the specified time, but the strictness of certain members of the Committee in regard to fines may remedy this.

The Committee is a very good one, but it has one great fault—it is composed, but for two boys, of members of the Vth Forms. Almost half the Committee of last year were Vth Formers, and are with us this year; but if the present Vths do not render their services more readily, how will the Library fare in 1929? There are at present several vacancies, and any boy of the Vth Forms who wishes to become a member should see either Mr. Jones or the Sub-Librarian as soon after the commencement of the second term as possible.

CHAPEL NOTES.

Kingsford Smith.

THE DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT.

The Dramatic Entertainment was held on December 9 at the Warringa Hall, Neutral Bay.

Under the direction of Mr. Hewins, a programme of three one-act plays was presented. The selection of plays has been criticised on the ground that there was none of a light character—there were three deaths on the stage, and two murderers revealed themselves: so the criticism is to a certain extent just. However, the time at the producer's disposal was sufficient to allow of the production of one-act plays only, and though a large number were examined, those selected seemed to be the only ones of any dramatic value within the capacity of the cast.

The performance opened with "Waterloo," by Sir Conan Doyle. The piece is mainly a character study. The part of the old soldier, Corporal Gregory Brewster, was effectively presented by Mr. Hewins. Miss Stokes took the part of Norah Brewster; J. F. Bell was Colonel Midwinter, and R. F. Harvey Sergeant Macdonald.

"Waterloo" was followed by two songs, sung by a party of Preparatory School boys. These songs were "Drink to me only with thine eyes" and "Some Folks." They were accompanied by Mr. Heuston, who throughout the year had been training the Preparatory School in singing.

Next was a conjuring display by Mr. R. M. Hickson. This was as popular as his exhibitions invariably are, and his audience was loth to part with him.

The second play was "Thread of Scarlet," by J. J. Bell. The part of Breen was taken by Mr. Hewins; Carson and Frankel took the parts of Smith and Migsworth. The landlord was played by Orr, and the traveller by F. C. Taylor. The heaviest part, that of Butters, the grocer and murderer, was taken by W. Barnes.

Miss Beryl Walmsley then played two violin solos, "Chanson Indoue" (Rimsky - Korsakov - Kreisler) and "Merrymakers' Dance" (Edward German).

Mr. C. Q. Williams then followed with two songs.

The concluding piece was "The Last Drop." Mr. Burgess was Colonel Foster, whose son has met an unexplained death on the battlefield; Waterman was Preece, his servant; and Mr. Hewins was Sheen, who resolves the mysteries of the piece, and brings his own condemnation when his tongue has been sufficiently loosened with whisky.

The whole performance went through smoothly. The stage management was in the capable hands of J. M. Dixon.

The Dramatic Society expresses its thanks to Miss Stokes and Miss Walmsley, to Mr. C. Q. Williams, their assistance in making the entertainment a success.

Mr. Hickson, and Mr. Heuston for TENNIS.

Every year the Club has to say farewell to a number of players who have been relied upon to represent it in all important fixtures.

Of these, Kellett has done much for the promotion of tennis in the School, and his untiring energy as a member of the sub-committee has been much appreciated by all. Before leaving, he presented a cup, to be called the Kellett Cup, and awarded to the winners of the Doubles Championship of the School. The Club takes this opportunity of thanking him, and of wishing him every success in his future career.

Enthusiasm has been the prevalent note of the tennis this term. Apart from the members of last year, many new and promising players have joined the Club.

House matches have been commenced, but have been interfered with by rain. To date the points scores are:—

School	8
Robson	8
Hodges	0
Barry	0

Other than the G.P.S. Tournament, only one match has been played against another school, namely, against North Sydney High School. The visitors were too strong for our team, and won by 17 sets to 5.

A practice match was also played against a team representing the Old Boys, consisting of Kellet, Molloy, Phillips, and Neale. A very enjoyable game, in which honours were even, took place.

The culminating interest, however, was reached in the G.P.S. Tournament, which was held at the White City Courts on April 12. We entered a senior team, consisting of Goddard (captain), Rice, MacDermott, Robinson, Walcott, and Ifould, and two junior teams.

The A Team was made up of Falk (captain), Swain, White, Hunt, Litchfield ii., and Farey; and the B Team of Spencer (captain), Smith iii., Cohen, Nash, Rosengarten, and Rae.

In the senior division we drew King's School and St. Ignatius', whilst Sydney Grammar School met the Scots' College.

In the triangular contest which followed, we beat St. Ignatius', as did King's School; but the latter were too strong for our own combination, beating us by 7 matches to 5.

In the other half of the draw, S.G.S. were victorious, but were defeated by T.K.S. in the final.

We wish to congratulate King's School on their success. Whilst the final was being decided we played Scots' College, and were victorious.

In the junior series, Shore A Team played King's School, and defeated them by 11 matches to 1.

The other division, in which Shore B, S.G.S. and Scots' College were drawn, resulted in a victory for Shore B by 11 games, from S.G.S.

In the final match which followed, Shore A Team proved altogether too strong for the B Team, and eventually won by 10 matches to 2.

The School Tournament, of which this is preliminary notice, will begin early next term. There will be seven events, viz. :—

1. Singles Championship.
2. Doubles Championship.

3. Junior Singles Championship.

CADET COMPETITION.

On April 14, a squad of eighteen boys from the School took part in the Annual Military Sports at the Agricultural Grounds. They were successful, after a closely contested competition, in winning the Kirby Shield for the State Championship in Drill. Each member of the squad received a silver cup. The names were:—K. N. Bradfield, D. L. Carson, J. M. Dixon, F. P. Gray, R. J. Newton, A. C. O'Reilly, E. C. Slatter, J. M. Grant, R. J. Hunter, P. O. Mitchell, R. E. Ludowici, C. K. Magno, D. A. Pratten, H. V. Walcott, C. D. Everingham, L. S. Du Vernet, D. E. Kater, and F. G. Brooks.

ERSKINEVILLE CLUB.

The Club is in full swing, as usual, on Friday nights. Lincoln, who directed the activities of the Club until Easter, has been succeeded by Coffin. The attendance of Erskineville boys has averaged about 25. Shore has been well represented. Several Old Boys have turned up at intervals, including Bradley, Neild, Dunbabin, and Fitzhardinge.

Sergeant-Major Davidson generously gave up an evening to the Club. His physical culture instruction and sound advice to the boys were greatly appreciated. The Club is greatly indebted to Miss Mackey for her interest in its welfare, and also for her kindness in presenting cakes.

The Headmaster has provided the Club with several sets of boxing gloves, for which the Club is grateful. Boxing has proved very popular, and soon a tournament will be held.

Numerous Shore boys have expressed their willingness to help the Club during the rest of the year.

All who wish to help should give their names to Coffin, or to other members of the Committee.

BOXING TOURNAMENT, 1927.

The Annual Boxing Tournament for 1927 was held in the School Hall last term at the beginning of December. The number of entries was much higher than in 1926, and it was found necessary to extend the tournament to four days. The standard of boxing shown was most creditable on the whole, and particularly so in the case of C. S. Herbert and A. C.

Rowe, of Robson House; P. W. Swift ii. and G. C. Cullis-Hill, of School; I. G. Esplin, of Hodges; and J. C. Sheaffe and R. A. Bourke, of the Junior House. F. N. Bell retained the School Championship, as was expected, unchallenged.

A new departure was made this tournament in the award of trophies. It was found possible to provide cups for each weight, and, in addition, to have these cups suitably engraved. It is to be hoped that this arrangement will be possible again this year.

The winners of each weight were as follows:—

Preparatory.

Under 5.7—J. C. Sheaffe i.

Under 6.0—B. R. Moody.

Open—G. W. Chapman.

Under 6.0—A. C. Roberts vi. (S.).

Under 6.7—A. H. Craig (H.).

Under 7.0—P. R. Laurence (S.).

Under 7.7—T. B. Reddick (S.).

Under 8.0—R. A. Hutchinson (R.) and R. M. Edwards (S.), draw.

Under 8.7—G. L. Newton ii. (S.).

Under 9.0—P. W. Swift ii. (S.).

Under 9.7—R. Swift i. (S.).

Under 10.0—M. A. Mackay (R.).

Under 10.7—R. S. Miller (R.).

Under 11.0—J. M. Vernon (S.).

Under 11.7—C. S. Herbert (R.).

Open—F. N. Bell (R.).

CRICKET.

The School XI. has met with only modified success this term, having won four matches and lost three. The bowling of Begbie and Nevill, aided by several wickets affected by rain, has been extremely successful, as is shown by the fact that, except S.G.S., no team totalled more than 140. The comparative failure of the batting has not been due to lack of batting strength, but rather to lack of determination. There are at least eight batsmen on the side capable of making runs, but time after time a majority of the batsmen have failed, not through being beaten by good bowling so much as through their own mistakes. In two of the matches lost, one good partnership of 50 or more runs would have saved the match, but such a partnership was not forthcoming. The fielding has been good on the whole, the ground fielding cleaner and smarter than last year, and the throwing in more accurate. There is still room for improvement in the catching, as too many chances were dropped: on several occasions at a crucial point of the game a catch was dropped which might easily have reversed the result. Thompson, who was promoted from the seconds as wicket-keeper, has been a success, and showed steady improvement as he became accustomed to the bowling.

In the last match, against a Riverina team, he was responsible for dismissing five batsmen.

The general standard of cricket throughout the G.P.S. is rather lower than usual, with a distinct predominance of the ball over the bat. There is not a great deal of difference between the first five Schools, and it seems as though the team which makes the fewest mistakes will win.

Nevill captained the team well, and showed considerable skill in the management of his bowling.

COMPETITION MATCHES.

v. The King's School.—Played at North-bridge, after a postponement, on February 22, and won by the School by 13 runs on the first innings. Nevill won the toss, and sent T.K.S. in to bat on a sticky wicket. The batsmen failed against the bowling, and at one time 8 wickets were down for 16 runs. The last three men put on a few, and the innings closed for 34. Begbie (7 for 22) bowled well, and the keenness of the fielding secured nine catches all close to the wicket. The batsmen made the mistake of playing as though the wicket were normal, instead of taking all risks to make runs. The School did very little better. White, Begbie, Rawling, and Goddard, however, hit at anything loose or well up, and the side made 47. After lunch the wicket improved, and was slow and easy. T.K.S. in their second attempt hit up 119 runs for 6 wickets, and closed in the hope of winning on the second innings. Terrey batted very well for 41, and Ayers was the most successful bowler, getting 3 for 26. In the School's second innings, T.K.S. were very nearly successful, as 4 wickets fell for 6 runs. Then a valuable partnership by Nevill and Ayers brought the closing time within sight, and the remaining batsmen succeeded in holding out until the call of time. The School was extremely lucky to win the toss in this match, as, though the wicket was as bad for our innings as for T.K.S., the moral effect of the latter's opening failure, and the fact that weak and strong teams are equalised by a bowler's wicket, were the causes of our victory. Davies, keeping an accurate length and swinging from the leg, bowled admirably for T.K.S., and secured the extraordinary figures of 6 for 21 and 4 for 14. Scores:—

v. S.G.S.—Played on the Weigall Ground on February 25, resulting in a win for S.G.S. by 7 wickets and 36 runs. The School batted first, and Newton and Taylor made a good start, putting on 50. The scoring continued slow until lunch, when 4 wickets were down for 108. After lunch a rot set in, and Nevill could find no one to stay with him. The innings closed for 153—a poor score after a good beginning. Aided by a couple of chances missed and a lost opportunity of stumping McGilvray, S.G.S. played freely and passed our score with only two wickets down. McGilvray played a fine innings for 90, and at no time did our bowling seem to have the batsmen in difficulties. Scores:

v. T.S.C.—Played at Bellevue Hill on March 3, and won by 220 runs. T.S.C. batted first and made 111, D. Fleming top scoring with a vigorous innings of 47 not out. Newton and Taylor again gave the School a good start with a partnership of 82 for the first wicket, Ayers played a good innings for 81, and Begbie, Rawling and Goddard all batted vigorously, so that the School reached its highest total for the season—331. v. N.C.—Played at Northbridge on March 10, and lost by 30 runs. The School won the toss and batted, but made a very poor display, largely owing to Mitchell's excellent bowling. The total was 111. S.I.C. at one time appeared to be in danger with 6 down for 53, but the tail end came to the rescue and the innings closed for 121. Scores:—

v. S.H.S.—Played at Northbridge on March 24, and continued on March 28; won by 149 runs. The School batted first, and made 153. Goddard struck form, and batted in first rate style for 70; Dixon played patiently for 40 not out; Nevill, opening, hit up 36 vigorously; and most of the other batsmen made a few, the tail putting on 80 for the last three wickets. Our bowling was rather harmless on Saturday, and S.H.S., batting well, had lost 4 for 96 when play closed for the day. Unfortunately for them, the wicket was soft on Wednesday, when the match was resumed, and the remaining wickets fell for 8 runs, Nevill and Begbie proving almost unplayable. Scores:

v. S.J.C.—Played at Hunter's Hill on March 31, and won by 86 runs on the first innings. Nevill won the toss, and sent S.J.C. in on a wicket that was slow one end and very soft the other. On the latter Begbie again proved his value when the wicket is affected by rain, as he took the first five wickets at a cost of 3 runs. S.J.C. made 67, McMahon batting pluckily for 32. The wicket was much better when the School batted, and the score was passed with two wickets down. Goddard played an excellent innings for 61. Cluff, swinging from the leg, puzzled most of the batsmen, and obtained 4 for 30. In their second innings, S.J.C. lost 8 wickets for 52, Begbie getting 3 for 17. Scores:—

2nd XI.

In the first half of the Schools' cricket year the 2nd XI. made a most successful start, winning all matches played. Rain prevented that against T.K.S. It is to be regretted that no provision is made to give a chance of playing a match which, owing to rain on the set date, has to be abandoned.

The success of the side has not been due to outstanding batting so much as to team spirit and to work in the field. No fellows could have been keener in this respect, and consequently became really good in spite of occasional lapses. They ably backed up the bowlers, of whom the team had quite a number of different types of very fair standard, with two particularly good. Hodgson and White, both lefthanders, but quite dissimilar, took 25 and 31 wickets respectively at the very low cost of 4.04 and 6.58. Alexander improved greatly, and gives much promise as a leg-break bowler; but McDermott especially came on rapidly, and his medium slow spin bowling, with a nice turn from the off, was a real help in the last few matches. In batting, Alexander fulfilled last year's promise. In three innings, Halstead made 231; the others, though not scoring heavily so far, are improving and gradually eliminating faults, which are sure to disappear in the early future. Kater gave of his best as captain.

A very interesting series of articles on "Across Papua" has been appearing in the "S. M. Herald." The authors are Charles H. Karius, an Old Boy, Assistant Resident Magistrate in Papua, and Mr. Ivan Champion (patrol officer). They are copies of the diaries written on a six months' journey undertaken in December, 1926. The object of the expedition was to endeavour to ascertain the source of the Fly River and to find a pass across Papua into the mandated territory, a task which had then to be abandoned owing to difficulties with supplies, but which has now been accomplished after a second attempt by the same men. The articles tell a tale of "adventurous experiences and of hardships and difficulties that, one realises, could have been overcome only by the exercise of the highest qualities of leadership, by dogged determination and, at times, by deeds amounting to heroism."

Geoffrey F. Cranswick, whose marriage in India is recorded in this issue, took his degree at Sydney, then served for two years as Traveling Secretary of the Australian Students' Christian Movement. He then went to Cambridge, where he studied theology at Ridley Hall. For nearly four years he was Curate to Canon Guy Rogers (now Rector of Birmingham) at West Ham, in the East End of London. Then he came to Australia, and in 1923 was sent to India to represent the English parent Church Missionary Society. He is now the Vice-Principal of King Edward School, Chapra, Western Bengal. There are 200 boys in his school, which is vocational; each boy learns a trade, and, after a certain standard has been reached, agriculture under a specialised staff. The aim, educationally, is to fit the village boy to become an efficient citizen, and so help to stem the rush to the cities, which has become a grave problem in India.

G. A. N. Woodcock writes, c/o Petree & Dorr, Engineers Inc., 67 Wall Street, New York, under date November 23, 1927:—

We have just jumped back into Spring-like weather, after a few days' foretaste of winter. I am not keen on really cold weather, and one of the best features of my job is that I spend the winters in Cuba, while most people have to spend good money to do that! My wife and I were there for the first four months of the year, staying at Santiago, Havana, and intermediate points. At the end of April we made a short visit to Jamaica, which we enjoyed immensely. I had never been there before, and was astonished at the extraordinary variety of scenery. Then back to Santiago and on to Porto Rico, via Hayti and Santo Domingo. From Porto Rico my wife went back to New York with friends, and I returned to Hayti and collected a nice installation order, getting up to New York at the end of May. I went down to Cuba again for the month of July, and had a much cooler time than they did in New York. Since then we have been more or less stationary, and on account of the next sugar crop being postponed by Government restriction we may not go down till early January, instead of mid-December, as I expected to. When at Havana we saw H. F. Clarke, who was there for the International Sugar Technologists' Meeting, and some other Australians.

The Rev. W. S. McLeod, who recently returned from a health trip to Ceylon and India, has been appointed locum tenens at Cootamundra, in the Diocese of Goulburn, during the absence of the Rector in England.

At a meeting of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Hilton W. T. Chenhall, M.B., Ch.M., was elected a member of the Council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. J. O. Meeks, who is absent on a visit abroad.

The School Register, which contains the names of all Old Boys who have entered the School from 1889 to December, 1926, is now in the printer's hands, and will be published early in April. The price is 12/6.

Warren Crane, who was Hon. Secretary of the Old Boys' Union in 1924, returned from England in October, after two years away.

J. H. Todhunter was head of the list in the Final Bookkeeping and Auditing Examination of the Australasian Corporation of Public Accountants, and R. N. Cadwallader obtained third place. Among those who passed were C. B. R. Cowdery, K. H. McKnight and G. F. O. Mullen. Passes in the Intermediate were obtained by A. R. Mutton, J. H. Clark, S. H. Bull, and J. M. Goddard.

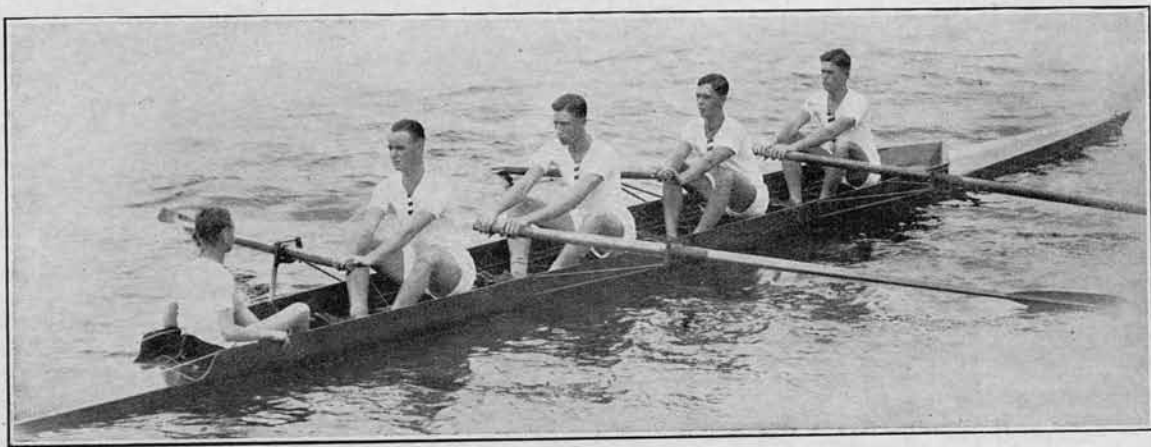

Congratulations to R. R. B. Hickson on being admitted solicitor.

At A. K. Smith's wedding in the School Chapel on March 22, the best man was Dr. Neil Francis, and the groomsmen and ushers were G. Turnbull, P. A. Warburton, R. R. B. Hickson, Noel Fraser, and R. K. Smith, all Old Boys. The bride was a sister of an Old Boy. The service was taken by Mr. Davies, and Mr. Walmsley officiated at the organ.

Congratulations to Colonel A. H. Moseley on obtaining the Diploma of Public Health from the Sydney University.

The Annual Old Boys' Dinner will be held on Friday, April 20.

THE SECOND FOUR.

Cox., J. H. Cooper.

It was with extreme regret that we heard of the death of F. J. Taylor, of Arrowfield, Isisford. He had left the homestead with a loaded shotgun on a shooting expedition, and shortly afterwards his brother, hearing a report, saw him hanging over a wire fence. It appears that, when going through a fence, the trigger was caught in a wire and went off. The doctor who attended him was A. F. Janes, an Old Boy, Medical Superintendent at Isisford, and he and C. W. Scholfield, another Old Boy, were among the pallbearers at the funeral.

G. C. Turnbull, who has been Hon. Secretary of the O.B.U. Club from the start, has resigned, owing to his leaving very shortly for England. A record of his great work for the Club has been placed in the minutes.

The G.P.S. Regatta will take place on the Parramatta River on Wednesday (heats), April 18, and on Saturday (finals), April 21.

Early in November the Hon. Secretary received subscriptions from two members whose names have been mislaid, and he will be glad to hear from anyone who paid in November and has not yet received a receipt.

W. K. Cowlishaw, a member of the Old Boys' Union Committee, resigned in February owing to absence from the town.

At the wedding of Harold Prell, S. Prell was best man and Walter Carter groomsman.

Neville Conroy, who has been Hon. Secretary of the Union for the past three years, also resigned his office owing to ill-health.

Adrian Curlewis, who has been Assistant Hon. Secretary for seven years, is carrying on the Secretary's duties, and Neville Conroy has been elected to the Committee in Cowlishaw's place.

Gordon Turnbull, a Vice-President, was granted leave of absence while on business in England.

Dr. B. W. Windeyer is a resident at Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, Camperdown, where Dr. K. B. Voss is Chief Resident Radiologist.

The following teams represented the Union in the Annual Cricket Matches against the School on Saturday, September 24:—

R. W. Sheaffe, R. S. Bennett, A. B. S. White, A. S. Wolstenholme, A. H. Mac-lachlan, J. C. Alexander, W. S. Goddard, E. A. Murdoch, P. H. Allen, G. H. Mackellar, M. M. Ramsden.

S. W. Crane, J. Carey, L. H. Joule, W. J. S. Harding, C. Sheather, R. R. B. Hickson, C. D. Cadwallader, R. T. Inch, P. D'Ombraim, F. H. Doyle, L. F. Fitzhardinge, D. K. Braddock.

F. C. Stephen, M. I. Davies, W. L. Simpson, G. B. Armstrong, M. Lyne, G. C. Turnbull, A. H. Gibson, L. H. Davies, P. R. Esplin, J. W. Martin.

Dr. H. F. Wilson left for England on October 1.

Dr. Lin. Clowes returned from England in November after three years' post graduate work, and is now practising in Macquarie Street.

Dr. W. R. Wilson has left Queensland, and has started practice in Grafton. Dr. E. A. Woodward is another Old Boy practising in that town.

"Mum" Hassall, 1st XI, 1st XV, and Athletic Team of 1915, is also in Grafton.

"Smiler" Charlton has been appointed Superintendent of Kogarah District Hospital.

Vernon Treatt, a Rhodes Scholar of a few years ago, stood as the selected Nationalist candidate for the Willoughby seat at the last elections. He was only beaten by a hundred odd votes, but hopes that an opportunity may yet come to him. Incidentally, he is the first Rhodes Scholar in N.S.W. to stand for Parliamentary honours. He was appointed Crown Prosecutor for the Metropolitan District last month.

In November, Colonel T. A. J. Playfair was appointed a member of the Upper House, and the Old Boys' Union offers him its congratulations on the honour. For some time past he had been President of the Constitutional Association of N.S.W. At School, Colonel Playfair won the Junior Athletic Shield in 1904, and was in the 1st XI and 1st XV. At the War he was awarded the D.S.O., and was mentioned in dispatches.

Cyril Doyle, cricketer and footballer of 1918, was down for Country Week cricket. In the first match, he carried his bat out for 168.

In mentioning the Constitutional Association, it might be pointed out that a great number of Old Boys have already joined this organisation and are doing valuable work for the community. It is a non-party body, and its objects are:—

1. To inculcate a higher ideal of national service and a better appreciation of the rights and duties of citizenship amongst the Australian people.

2. To maintain and support the integrity of the British Empire, and to further the development of Australia as an integral part thereof.

3. To advocate and promote the maintenance of Parliamentary Government and the equal enforcement of law; to oppose Communism and all other unconstitutional methods.

4. To encourage and assist an active participation in Federal and State politics, and in Municipal and Shire affairs, both at elections and in the intervals between them, and to support such party or parties, or candidates, as may be approved by the Association in general meeting.

5. To study political, social, and economic questions and methods; to promote the discussion of these questions without prejudice, and to endeavour to ascertain and to remove the causes of ill-feeling and to bring about co-operation between the different interests in society.

The membership of the Association is well over a thousand in Sydney alone. Any Old Boy wishing to join, or requiring further information, may do so by getting in touch with A. H. Curlewis, 170 Phillip Street, Sydney.

Bertram J. F. Wright has been appointed Associate to the Chief Judge in Equity, Mr. Justice Harvey.

We regret that in our last issue the date of the death of F. C. Ibbott's son was given wrongly; it should have been October 7, 1927. We also tender our most sincere sympathy to Ibbott on the death of his wife, which took place on October 24.

Congratulations to Harry K. Webb on securing first place in New South Wales in the legal section of the Intermediate Examination held by the Federal Institute of Accountants last November. He secured the same position in bookkeeping and in the accounting section in the examination held the previous November.

Heartly congratulations to C. S. Stuart on being elected one of the Australian representatives for the coming Olympic Games. We give him our best wishes for success.

The Old Boys resident in Victoria held a dinner at Phair's Hotel, Collins Street, Melbourne, on Saturday, December 3. The following were present:—B. G. Pitt, T. W. Smith, V. D. Watson, R. M. Saddington, R. F. Franklin, C. H. Kaepfel, A. E. Knox, C. H. Simpson, L. Deane, and T. C. Boehme. During the evening greetings and good wishes were exchanged with the Headmaster over the telephone, and the School song was sung with great gusto. A telegram from the Hon. Secretary wishing the dinner every success was also received.

It was decided to form a committee to arrange a dinner for next year, and to welcome any Old Boys to Melbourne. The names of the Committee, any one of whom will be only too pleased to hear from Old Boys who may go to Melbourne and to help them get in touch with other Old Boys' are as follow:—

T. W. Smith, Selbourne Chambers, Bourke Street, Melbourne.

V. D. Watson, 230 Cotham Road, Kew.

R. M. Saddington, Colonial Sugar Refining Co., Yarraville, Vic.

T. C. Boehme, 20 Queen Street, Melbourne.

It is intended to hold the next dinner during Show Week in September next year.

Those present at the dinner have requested the Hon. Secretary to convey to Old Boys and the School their good wishes for the success of the School and the Union.

The dinner was organised by T. C. Boehme, to whom the Union is very deeply indebted for his unflagging energy and enthusiasm.

S.C.E.G.S. OLD BOYS' UNION.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1927.

The Annual Meeting was held at the School on Friday, April 23, immediately after the Headmaster's Tea, which was attended by nearly 200 members. The report and balance-sheet, which are printed below, were presented. The election of officer-bearers resulted as follows:—

Patron: L. C. Robson.

President: N. Y. Deane.

Vice-Presidents: L. A. Baker, Dr. A. H. Moseley, R. W. Carey, Dr. F. G. A. Pockley, A. B. S. White, D. Williams, and C. Turnbull.

Committee: R. R. Sinclair, H. H. Dixon, C. Tiley, W. K. Cowlishaw, J. R. O. Harris, D. A. Warden, T. F. Cowdroy, H. S. Lloyd, and C. S. Stuart.

Hon. Treasurer: Rev. D. Davies.

Hon. Secretary: N. R. Conroy.

Assistant Hon. Treasurer: D. F. Roberts.

Assistant Hon. Secretaries: F. C. Stephen and A. H. Curlewis.

Hon. Auditor: W. J. S. Harding.

The Report was as follows:—

1. Your Committee has much pleasure in submitting the report of the work of the Union for the year 1926-27.

2. Membership has again increased during the year, and the total membership is now 1,218, of whom 197 are Life Members. Unfortunately, however, about 50 members each year cease the payment of their subscriptions, and are deleted from the Membership Roll, thus largely counteracting the increase in numbers resulting from the admission of new members. In the year just ended the unusually large number of 150 new members were admitted, and for this the Union is chiefly indebted to Mr. J. R. O. Harris, who has succeeded in inducing practically every boy who has left School during the period to join the Union.

3. The Annual Dinner was held at Adams' Hotel on Friday, May 6, and was attended by only about 50 members. This is by far the smallest attendance for very many years, and members are urged to endeavour to promote the success of next year's function by attending in larger numbers.

4. The Annual Football Match was played at Northbridge on July 11. For the first time, the match was played on a Saturday, with the result that two teams were fielded without difficulty.

5. Your Committee this year held a Dinner Dance at the Ambassadors on Friday, July 29, instead of the usual Supper Dance, but the innovation did not appear to be popular, and it is recommended that in future the Supper Dance be reverted to.

6. The publication of the School Register is well on towards completion, and it is anticipated that the book will be in the hands of subscribers before the end of this year.

7. During the year an election of Union representatives on the School Council was held, and the retiring members were unanimously re-elected. The representatives on the Council are, therefore, Messrs. A. B. S. White, R. W. Carey and D. Williams, and Drs. F. G. A. Pockley and A. H. Moseley.

8. Mr. A. B. S. White was nominated as a Vice-President of the G.P.S. Association to represent this Union, and was duly elected by the Association.

9. The Old Boys' Union Scholarships were awarded to J. M. Vernon and F. N. Bell. Vernon is Senior Prefect of the School, and is a member of the 1st XV., 1st XI, and 1st Rifle Team, and was chosen in the G.P.S. 1st XV. Bell is Captain of Boats, a member of the 1st XV. and Senior Athletic Team, and is also the champion boxer of the School.

10. During the year Mr. L. A. Baker has retired from the Staff of the School, and your Committee arranged for a presentation to be made to him at the Annual Dinner. Old Boys generally have heard with great regret of Mr. Baker's retirement, as no one has given more devoted service to the School than he has done for so many years. With his departure, one of the last remaining links with the early days of the School is severed, but members will confidently look forward to meeting him at School functions for many years. Your Committee feels that it has the support of every member of the Union in wishing Mr. Baker a complete recovery of his health, and expressing its best wishes for the future.

11. As it has been felt that the Old Boys' Notes in "The Torchbearer" have been most inadequate in the past, a sub-committee has been appointed to collect notes for the magazine, and it is hoped that there will be a resulting improvement in the future. A box for contributions is being placed in the Club, and members are urged to send in notes or newspaper cuttings relating to the doings of Old Boys.

12. The Old Boys resident in South Australia held their Annual Dinner in Adelaide on June 27, and your Committee hopes that a similar function will be held in Melbourne this month. The success of such dinners is invariably due to the energy of the organisers of the function, and your Committee is indebted to Mr. R. T. Moodie in Adelaide and Messrs. T. C. Boehme and T. Smith in Melbourne for the interest they have displayed in this respect.

13. An Old Boys' Dinner was also held in Newcastle, at which the Headmaster and Rev. D. Davies were guests. The thanks of the Union are in this case due to Mr. C. W. Pulver.

14. Your Committee feels that better arrangements should be made for the School boat at the G.P.S. Regatta, as last year it was almost impossible for those on board to see the race, and is endeavouring to arrange that more satisfactory accommodation will be available next year.

15. This year, in the opinion of your Committee, has not been a successful one in sport, and it is hoped that marked improvement will shortly eventuate.

16. The School is to be congratulated on the results at the Leaving Certificate Examination last year, which compared more than favourably with those of any other School in the State.

17. During the year, Mr. G. B. Hetherington resigned from the position of Assistant Hon. Secretary on account of his departure for England, and Mr. F. C. Stephen, who was already a member of the Committee, was elected to the position. Mr. R. G. O. Harris also resigned from his position as Vice-President, and Dr. H. F. Wilson and Mr. W. K. Cowlshaw were elected to the vacancies.

18. There have been 9 meetings of the Committee, attendances at which have been as follows:—Deane, N. Y., 9; Davies, Rev. D., 9; Conroy, N. R., 8; Curlewis, A. H., 8; Roberts, D'A., 8; Harris, J. R. O., 7; Stephen, F. C., 7; Turnbull, G. C., 7; Harding, W. J. S., 6; Armitage, Rev. I. D., 6; Robson, L. C., 6; Tiley, C. S., 4; Warden, D. A., 4; Hetherington, G. B. (resigned May), 4; Carey, R. W., 4; White, A. B. S., 4; Moseley, Dr. A. H., 4; Pockley, Dr. F. G. A., 4; Hamilton, Dr. G. R., 4; Cowlshaw, W. K. (elected May), 4; Lloyd, H. S., 3; Williams, D., 3; Wilson, Dr. H. F. (elected June), 3; Stuart, C. S., 2; Harris, R. G. O. (resigned April), 0; Moodie, W. C., 0.

19. The accounts and balance-sheet are annexed, and disclose that the Union is in a sound financial position.

N. Y. DEANE,

President.
